

MySQL should look something like this with the database and login credentials for the .java, you can also import the database files from github but I think that is just the schema

The next two shots show what it will look like to add the .jar file from: MySQL :: Begin Your Download (just select no thanks, begin my download) find .jar in .zip and add it in eclipse

